A counter demonstration against some Castro sympathizers also gathered to celebrate the 26th of July movement on July 26th. A meeting of about 40 Castro sympathizers gathered to celebrate the 26th of July movement through the use of stink bombs set off in the meeting place. The disruption in the operations which were claimed credit for were the following: The disruption in the goon squad program also was of considerable interest to the Deputy Director for Plans, Mr. Bisell. Because of its areawide nature, the activities of the goon squads were run out of WJD rather than out of WH/4. Among the operations which were mounted through the use of extensive anti-Castro activity also included extensive plans for the formation of goon squads throughout much of Latin America in an attempt to counter the goon squad elements of the various nations. This would be if they were mounted through agency efforts. In addition to planning for sabotage, WH Division protested that attacks on Soviet and Soviet-bloc targets by resistance forces not controlled by the Agency were far less efficient than such attacks.
